

SatTracx Field Force Efficiency now in Europe

A global leading FMCG company that has been a long time user of the product in India is now implementing the same in one of their European operations. Optimizing the field force routing and planning will help the company significantly increase efficiency among their field force thereby leading to improved top-line and bottom-line each quarter.